Editor's Message

When I was young and my older sister and brothers were attending M.S.J., I had a very fantasized view of what M.S.J. would be like. Now that I have been here these four years, I have come to realize that my view was not all that fantasized.

The faculty at M.S.J. are together-they mean something to each other and to the students. The spirit is shown with great pride for and honor in what we stand for, and the students work together to make the school the best there is.

This year in the yearbook, I, along with the yearbook staff of freshmen, sophomores and juniors, as well as seniors, have tried to capture the spirit, the love, and the togetherness of the people in the school over the past four years.

It will sadden me to leave M.S.J. this year but I know that the M.S.J. that the graduating seniors and I have come to know will go on as it has in the past, to become an even greater and more honored school than it is now.

"Margie"

These letters not only form a name but also a cry for help, and she has always come through.

Margie has always been there to take care of things from late passes to transcripts, to permission to use the phone. It seems she's always yelling at someone while laughing with another.

For helping us and for just being there, we the class of '74 dedicated this yearbook to you, Margie Canary.

In dedication to
Mark Thompson

Because you take life in your stride
Because no best is quite so good you don't conceive a better.
You were one of the best, Moose.

To the Class of '74

I am proud to have been a part of your educational experience at M. S. J. during these past four years.

I hope that the dedication of our teachers and the Christian atmosphere of our M. S. J. Community serve you in good stead as you advance to the next stage of your life.

May the Spirit of Christ guide you in fulfilling your commitments to Him and to each other.

Sincerely,

John W. Linnell

Burt Reynolds, eat your heart out!

MISS MARGARET CANARY
My girdle is killing me.

MR. JOSEPH FLORY
You dirty rat.

MR. FUNDSIE CIOFFI
Who told you I got a ticket?

MR. JAMES DAVIDSON
Mother had a feeling I might be TOO appealing, but . . .

MR. FRANK BIZZARRO
With all this boyish charm, no wonder I'm a star.

MR. JAMES KELLEY
Ah, come on. Not really.

MR. LOUIS GIANCOLA
No, it's not because there was a full moon last night.

MR. ARTHUR CRANDALL
I knew that cigarette tasted funny!

MR. SAM RIZZIERE
Is this what they call sociology?

SR. CLEMENTINE
How sweet, I thought you'd never ask.

MISS KATHLEEN FEENEY
Just call me Ms.

SR. BEATRICE
And a toot-a-loo and away we go.

MR. JIM COUGHLIN
That's the last time I borrow a cigarette from Art.

MRS. PATRICIA IVERSON
No, it's not the same test as last year's.

MR. BILL EATON
Pucker power.

MR. WALTER MOORE
Would you believe I'm the Godfather?
Would you believe Goduncle?
How about dirty old man?

SR. MARY HARVEY
Another happy day.

MRS. PAT AUSTIN
Maybe if I throw the chalk at them they'll wake up.

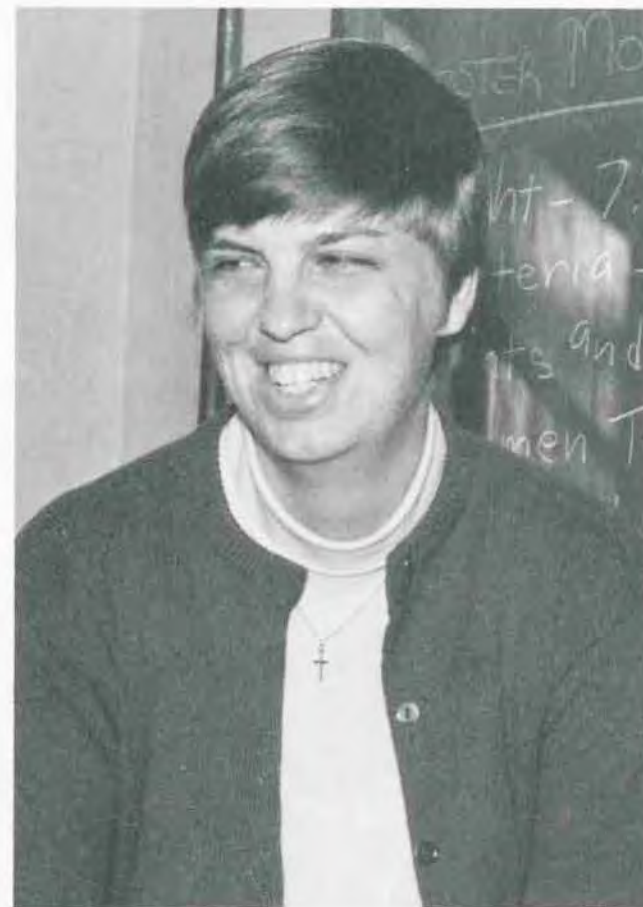

SR. SHIRLEY
And then what?

SR. PAULINE
Ah, come on--you know 2 and 2.

SR. PATRICIA
Flattery will get you everywhere.

MR. ANTHONY TENNIEN
A yuk, yuk yuk!

Everybody Needs Somebody

We all depend on someone
Someone else depends on you
Everybody needs everybody giving
I need you to need me, you do to.

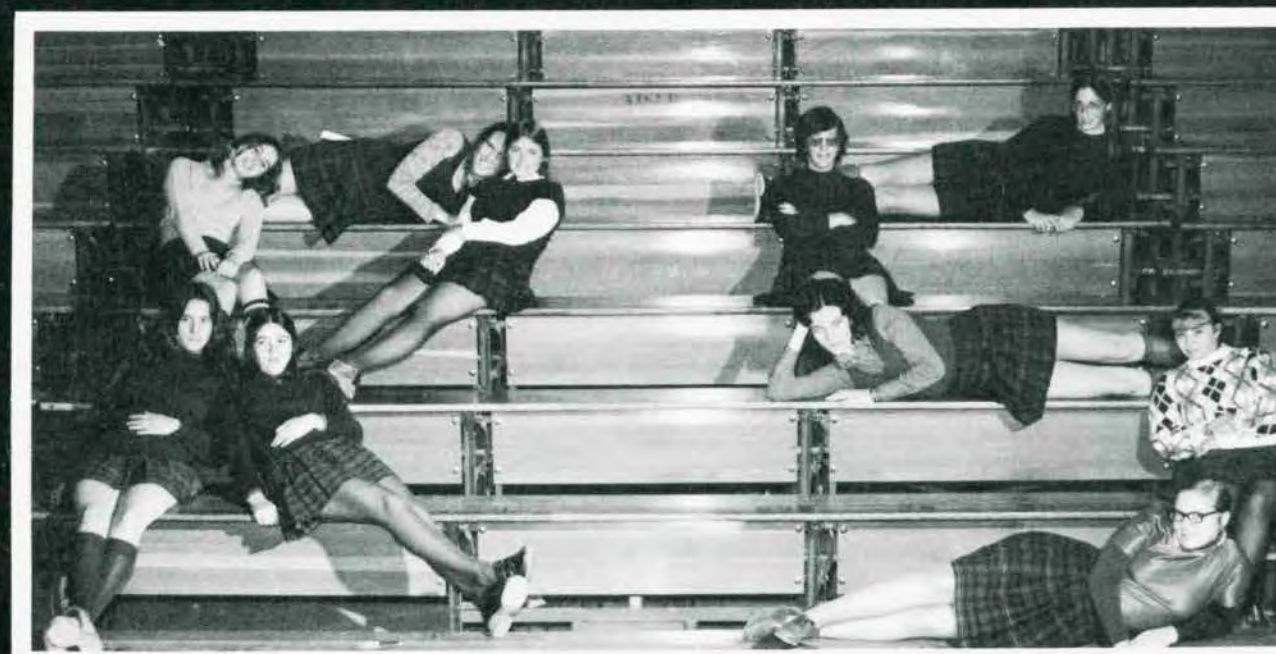

Light needs a reflection
Night needs light to shine
Everybody needs everybody giving
I need you to need me, you do to.

Shoe maker makes the shoes,
shoes fits the dancer
Dancer does his thing to the song
the singer sings
People clap their hands to the beat the rhythm makes
and we all live together,
yes we all live together.

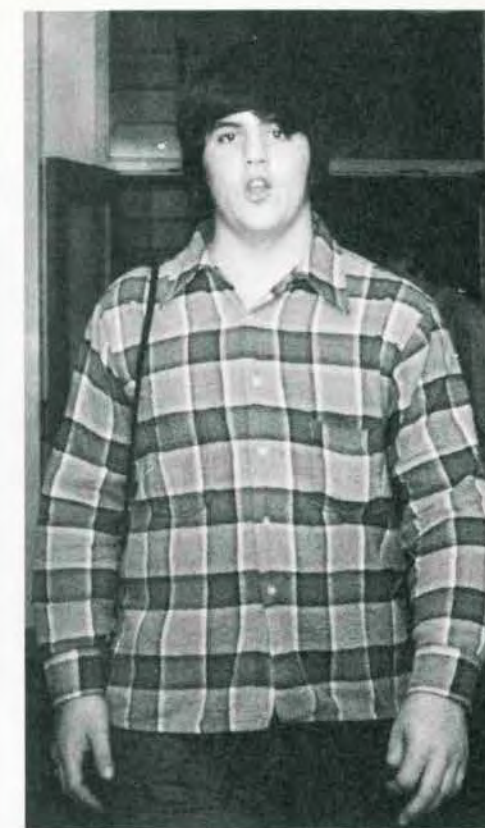

We all depend on someone
Someone else depends on you
Everybody needs everybody giving
I need you to need me, you do to.

Lumberjack falls the tree,
they go to the miller
Paper from the mill
makes a hundred thousand things
Like birthday cards and books, and the note the postman brings
and we all live together.
yes we all live together.

We all depend on someone
Someone else depends on you
Everybody needs everybody giving,
I need you to need me, you do to.

All in the golden afternoon
Full leisurely we glide;
For both our oars, with little skill,
By little arms are plied,
While little hands make wain pretence
Our wanderings to guide.

Anon, to sudden silence won,
In fancy they pursue
The dream-child moving through a land
Of wonders wild and new,
In friendly chat with bird or beast-
And half believe it true.

And ever, as the story drained
The wells of fancy dry,
And faintly strove that weary one
To put the subject by,
"The rest next time--" "It is next time!"
The happy voices cry.

Thus grew the tale of Wonderland:
Thus slowly, one by one,
Its quaint events were hammered out-
And now the tale is done,
And home we steer, a merry crew,
Beneath the setting sun.

Alice! a childish story take,
And with a gentle hand
Lay it where Childhood's dreams are twined
In Memory's mystic band,
Like pilgrim's withered wreath of flowers
Plucked in a far-off land.
